

100-Day MBA CET 2026 Success Plan — The Ultimate Strategy to Crack MBA CET

Every year, thousands of aspirants gear up for the MH-MBA CET, one of the most important gateway exams for MBA admissions in Maharashtra. While many resources recommend longer preparation timelines, it’s possible to crack CET in 3 focused months — provided you study smart, stay consistent, and strategically optimize your two exam attempts.

Here’s your ultimate 3-month plan to score high, build confidence, and leverage both attempts to your advantage.

1.Why 3 Months Can Be Enough — If You Do It Right

A 3-month intensive schedule is perfect for:

- Candidates with some academic foundation already in place
- Bachelor’s students with time after exams
- Repeaters maximizing their second shot at CET
- Anyone aiming to push their percentile up strategically

The secret? Focused goals + consistent testing + smart revision cycles — not just long hours.

2.Overview: Exam Pattern at a Glance

Section	Questions	Marks
Logical Reasoning	75	75
Abstract Reasoning	25	25
Quantitative Aptitude	50	50
Verbal Ability & RC	50	50
Total	200	200

Duration: 150 minutes | Marking: +1 per correct | No negative marking

3. 100-Day Preparation Strategy

Phase 1: Days 1–30 — Strong Foundation

Objective: Build concept clarity

Know the full MBA CET syllabus & pattern
Start with basics: theory first, then simple practice
Create section-wise notes & formula sheets

Study Targets

- Quant: Basics of arithmetic, algebra, geometry, number systems
- LR & AR: Seating, puzzles, coding-decoding, series
- VARC: Vocabulary, grammar rules, one RC passage daily

Suggested Daily Plan

- Quant: 1 hr
- LR/AR: 1 hr
- VARC: 45 min
- Revision: 15 min

Phase 2: Days 31–60 — Practice & Speed Building

Objective: Strengthen problem-solving skills

Begin sectional tests every alternate day
Focus on speed, not just correctness
Build topic lists for revision later

How to Practice

- Solve topic-wise worksheets
- Time yourself section-wise
- Track accuracy percentage

Daily Plan

- Sectional practice: 90 min
- Revision + error analysis: 30 min
- Vocabulary & RC: 30 min

Phase 3: Days 61–85 — Mock Tests & Analysis

Objective: Simulate real exam conditions

Start taking full-length mock tests

Analyze results — not just take tests

Focus on time management & question selection

Mock Test Strategy

- 2–3 mocks per week
- After each mock, note heavy-weight topics you're missing
- Track improvement over time

Phase 4: Days 86–100 — Revision & Final Fixes

Objective: High-impact revision before the exam

Revise formula sheets & notes

Solve 2–3 mock tests per week

Focus on speed + accuracy balance

Before Exam Tips

- Do not start new topics
- Revisit tricky question patterns
- Stay calm and confident

4. Section-Wise Tips to Boost Score

◆ Quantitative Aptitude

- Prioritize high-yield topics: percentages, ratios, algebra, speed/difficult business maths
- Practice DI sets every week
- Use shortcuts to save time

◆ Logical & Abstract Reasoning

- This is scoring if practiced — lots of puzzles and seating questions occur
- Solve previous patterns and mock puzzles daily

◆ Verbal Ability & RC

- Daily reading habit (newspaper, articles) improves RC
- Build vocab lists and revise weekly
- Practice grammar + para jumbles

Two CET Attempts — Make Each One Count

From 2026 onwards, Maharashtra has announced MBA CET will be conducted twice a year — essentially giving you two live attempts in the same cycle.

Tips to Maximize Your 3-Month Preparation

Mock Tests are Your Compass

Mocks help you track progress & pacing — don't just take them, analyse them.

Track Strengths & Weaknesses Weekly

If a topic still feels tough after multiple mocks — reset your approach.

Revision > New Learning in Month 3

Last-minute cramming rarely moves scores up; revision does.

Health Matters Too

Good sleep, breaks, and balanced routine = better cognitive performance.

Final Word

Cracking MH-MBA CET in 3 months is not just about hours spent — it's about smart progress tracking, structured revisions, mock test performance and learning from each simulation.

Combine that with a clear plan for your two exam attempts, and you're setting yourself up not just to pass — but to excel.
