High-Scoring Topics for MAH MBA CET 2026

Logical Reasoning (LR) — The Biggest Score Booster

This section can make or break your percentile. Focus heavily here.

Most Important Topics

- Seating Arrangements (Linear & Circular)
- Puzzles (Floor-based, Scheduling)
- Input-Output
- Coding-Decoding
- Syllogisms
- Blood Relations
- Direction Sense
- Series & Analogies

These topics together typically form 40–45 questions in LR.

Must-Practice Question Types

- Multi-variable seating puzzles
- Machine/Input-Output patterns
- Venn diagram syllogisms
- Mixed arrangement sets

Pro Tip: Master puzzles first — they give the highest returns.

Abstract Reasoning — The Speed Section

Often underestimated, this section can deliver quick marks with practice.

High-Scoring Topics

- Series Completion
- Pattern Recognition
- Mirror & Water Images
- Figure Analogy
- Odd One Out

Visual pattern questions form the majority of this section, so daily practice is key.

Must-Practice Types

- Rotation patterns
- Shape counting
- Figure analogy grids
- Embedded figure questions

Pro Tip: Aim for 90%+ accuracy here.

Quantitative Aptitude (QA + DI + DS)

This section is moderate in difficulty but highly scoring if fundamentals are clear.

Arithmetic (Highest ROI)

Focus on:

- Percentages
- Ratio & Proportion
- Profit & Loss
- Time & Work
- Time, Speed & Distance
- Averages

Arithmetic dominates the Quant section every year.

Data Interpretation (Very Important)

Expect 12–15 questions from DI sets.

Key DI Types:

- Tables
- Bar Graphs
- Pie Charts
- Caselets

Must-Practice Types

- Calculation-heavy DI
- Comparison-based DS
- Quadratic comparison
- Approximation

Pro Tip: Improve calculation speed — it's a major differentiator.

Verbal Ability & Reading Comprehension (VARC)

Many CET aspirants ignore VARC — big mistake.

High-Weightage Areas

- Reading Comprehension (RC)
- Para Jumbles
- Sentence Rearrangement
- Vocabulary (Synonyms/Antonyms)
- Error Spotting
- Critical Reasoning

RC alone can contribute 16–20 questions.

Must-Practice Question Types

- Inference-based RC
- Tone-based RC
- Para jumble with connectors
- Grammar error spotting

Pro Tip: Practice business and economy passages.

Common Mistakes to Avoid

Spending too long on one puzzle

Ignoring Abstract Reasoning

Over-focusing on Geometry

Not analyzing mocks

Leaving VARC till the end

Avoid these and your percentile can jump significantly.

Final Words: Target Smart, Not Just Hard

Cracking MAH MBA CET 2026 is less about covering the entire syllabus and more about mastering the right topics.

If you:

- Focus on LR puzzles
- Strengthen arithmetic
- Practice RC daily
- Maintain mock discipline

A 99+ percentile is absolutely achievable.
