

MBA CET 2026 Attempt 2 (9th May): Preparation Strategy for Aspirants

With just 25 days left for MBA CET 2026 Attempt 2, this is not the time to start from scratch—it's the time to refine, analyze, and maximize your score.

If you've already appeared for Attempt 1, you have a huge advantage: real exam exposure.

Now, your preparation should be data-driven, focused, and strategic.

One key takeaway from Attempt 1:

- The paper across all slots was easy to moderate
- However, it was lengthy, making time management the real challenge

This changes everything about how you should prepare for Attempt 2.

Let's break down exactly what you should do in the next 20 days to improve your percentile significantly.

Step 1: Analyze Your Attempt 1 Performance

Before jumping into preparation, pause and reflect:

Ask Yourself:

- Which sections felt easy / moderate / difficult?
- Where did you waste time?
- Did you attempt too many guesses or too few questions?
- Which section pulled your score down?

Identify:

- Strengths → Sections you can push to 99+ percentile
- Weaknesses → Sections where accuracy or speed was low

Golden Rule: Don't ignore weaknesses, but don't over-invest in them either.

Step 2: Build a Smart Sectional Strategy

MBA CET is all about maximizing attempts with accuracy.

Logical Reasoning (Highest Weightage)

- Focus on:
 - Puzzles (linear, circular, scheduling)
 - Arrangements
 - Critical reasoning
- Practice sets, not individual questions
- Time-bound practice is a must

Target: 85–95+ attempts overall exam with LR dominance

Quantitative Aptitude

- Focus on:
 - Arithmetic (Time-Speed-Distance, Profit-Loss)
 - Algebra basics
 - DI sets (tables, graphs)

Strategy:

- Attempt only sure-shot questions
 - Avoid getting stuck

Verbal Ability & RC

- Focus on:
 - Reading comprehension
 - Para jumbles
 - Vocabulary basics

Strategy:

- Improve reading speed + comprehension
 - Attempt easy RCs first

Abstract Reasoning

- Practice pattern recognition daily
- This is a scoring + fast section

Target: High accuracy, quick attempts

Step 3: Mock Test Strategy (Most Important)

In the next 20 days:

- Give 6–8 full-length mocks
- Analyze each mock for 2–3 hours

After Every Mock:

- Identify:
 - Time wasted questions
 - Silly mistakes
 - Strong areas to push further

Focus on:

- Attempt Strategy
 - Section Switching
 - Speed vs Accuracy Balance

Common Mistakes to Avoid

- Starting new topics now
 - Ignoring mock analysis
 - Over-attempting without accuracy
 - Panicking due to Attempt 1 performance

Final Strategy for Exam Day (9th May)

- Start with your strongest section
- Don't get stuck on any question > 30–40 seconds
- Focus on max attempts + decent accuracy

- Use the no negative marking advantage wisely

Final Words

MBA CET Attempt 2 is your last opportunity to secure a top B-school this year.

Attempt 1 was your trial run.

Attempt 2 should be your best performance.

Stay calm. Stay consistent. Trust your preparation.
